

There's more to care than caring.

- Are you looking for a rewarding career?
- Would you like to have a positive influence on someone's life in your community?
- Are you compassionate, patient, and dependable?

A career in care might just be perfect for you!

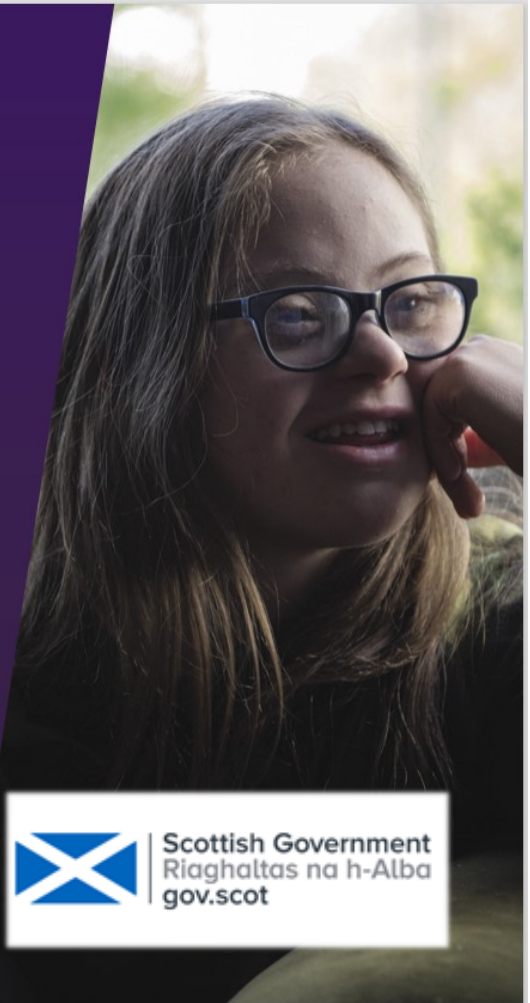

The Scottish Government and the Department of Work and Pensions are hosting events throughout Scotland to give you the opportunity to meet with potential employers and to learn just how diverse a career in social care can be.

You could join a workforce full of dedicated, respectful, like-minded people, who enjoy helping others in their community to live their best lives.
